

Threshold Incident Medical Report:

Ex0 got fucked

up

I received a call from Schu informing me that Ex0 had been in an accident. According to eye witnesses he unintentionally pressed a lever whilst doing maintenance on the threshold, resulting in a reaction caused by its energy coming in contact with the “IKB [SPECIL] Cleaning Solution”.

The reaction resulted in Ex0 being completely evaporated. We attempted to get a crew in and recompile him, but we very unsucksessful

Unfortunately we were not able to receive further assistance as the abandoned gold farm that was supposed to be remodeled into a hospital was demolished by Superb[itch]

Upon further analysis I’ve found that the air in the Mesa is now 0.00001% Ex0
